Protect your server room from fire that might damage expensive equipment

Marien Dreckmeyr - Marketing

With the Nvironmon range it is easy to control fire in the server room or cabinets

Oxygen, fuel and heat feed fires – remove any one of these and there is no fire! Netshield's unique FireSmother fire extinguisher instantly displaces oxygen, thus killing the fire immediately.

With the Nviromon range this can be electronically monitored and activated. The potassium powder jet is a unique method among fire extinguishers. It vaporises the chemical in the environment, and follows with the condensation of its extinguishing substance leaving no residue on expensive equipment! The Nviromon system will automatically check that doors are closed and that aircons are switched off before automatically activating the fire extinguisher.
